DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-22, drawn to a structure of a multilayer circuit board, classified in class 174, subclass 261.
 - II. Claims 23-32, drawn to an apparatus for suppressing noise in an electrical device, classified in class 361, subclass 748 plus.
 - III. Claims 33-56, drawn to a structure of a printed circuit board with differential voltage layers formed within the circuit board, classified in class 361, subclass 780 plus.
 - IV. Claims 57-60, drawn to a method of attenuating electromagnetic radiation in a circuit board, classified in class 29, subclass 830 plus.
2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:
3. Inventions (IV) and (I, II, III) are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make another and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process such that chip capacitors can be replace by individual capacitors instead.

Art Unit: 2841

Inventions (II, III) and (I) are related as combination and subcombination.

Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the apparatus and the printed circuit board do not require the characteristic of the patches to be changed with distance for patentability. The subcombination has separate utility such as the patches are rectangular.

Inventions II and III are related as products which share an alleged common utility of a localized array of elements but the common utility is not linked to a substantial structural feature. The products in this relationship are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the products encompass embodiments that are not required to perform the common utility or (2) that the products as claimed can be used to perform another utility. In this case, that the products (invention II) as claimed can be used to perform another utility such that it can be used to suppressing noise in an electrical device.

4. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

5. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

6. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
